"All others were born in ordinary frame houses"

ERRONEOUS DESCRIPTION OF GRANT COMMEMORATIVES

By

Elston G. Bradfield and James A. Friberg

THE "log cabin" Presidents of the United States have been Millard Fillmore, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln and James A. Garfield. Chester A. Arthur was born in a "log house" and Andrew Jackson in a "log farmhouse." It is said Thomas Jefferson was probably born in a "log structure." "Mansion" Presidents were George Washington, James Madison, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, Benjamin Harrison, William Howard Taft, and the two Roosevelts. Andrew Johnson was born in a small cottage. "All others were born in ordinary frame houses."[1] Among the "all others" is Ulysses S. Grant.

Every biographic source the authors have checked states that General Grant was born in a frame dwelling in Point Pleasant, Ohio. And yet, conversely, every numismatic description of the reverse of the Grant commemorative coins consulted refers to the building thereon as a "log cabin."

As part of the celebration of the centennial of Grant's birth, Congress authorized commemorative half dollars and gold dollars. Laura Gardin Fraser, who designed the coins, showed wide clapboards on the cottage appearing on the coins. This, plus the fence in the front, could create the illusion of a log cabin at a casual glance. If one has seen the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born or an illustration of it, he could discern a similarity in the Grant house, dwarfed as it is by the trees.

U. S. Grant half dollar

Early descriptive comments on the coins such as that of the Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon who referred to the reverse as "a sketch of the historic log cabin in which he (Grant) was born,"[2] set the pattern. Descriptions from then

1. Stimpson, George: A Book About American Politics, Harper & Bros., NYC, 1952, p. 456.
2. Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the Fiscal Year 1922, pp. 399 and 575. Has illustration.

James A. Friberg, A.N.A. No. 5055, Chicago, Ill., has been a member of the American Numismatic Association since 1936. One of his special interests is gold commemorative coins. Elston G. Bradfield, LM 266, Chicago, Ill., is a collector of numismatic literature.

The original drawing from which this print was traced may be found in the Grant biography by Rev. Headley which showed two men standing by the tree at the left. James A. Friberg, who made the tracing, sketched in some foliage on the barren tree limbs and omitted the two men. The sketch of the house and other objects is accurate.

on followed suit. David M. Bullowa,[3] John F. Jones,[4] Willis J. McKinney,[5] B. Max Mehl,[6] Raymond's Standard Catalogue of United States Coins,[7] Yeoman's Guide Book to United States Coins,[8] and other numismatic publications invariably called the dwelling a "log cabin."

The collapse of the Confederacy in 1865 and the growing probability that the General would be a Presidential candidate increased curiosity as to his personal life. Harper's Weekly pictured his birthplace in a line drawing based on a photograph taken by James Goodwin of Fort Wayne, Ind. The magazine commented that "The house in which the distinguished General was born has undergone no changes, with the exception of a new roof. The weatherboarding gives evidence of the age in the numerous crevices which are apparent in our illustration."[9]

The next year, 1866, Rev. P. C. Headley wrote "In this new home by the Ohio a son was born, April 27, 1822. The humble dwelling is still standing. Writes the original owner: 'It is a small one-story frame cottage. It was not worth more than two or three hundred dollars before the war. But every victory gained by the general, or a promotion, adds, in the owner's estimate, another hundred dollars to the price of the cottage.' "[10]

Another contemporary account says "The young couple (Jesse and Hannah Grant) began housekeeping in a little frame dwelling, a hundred yards from the Ohio River. . . . Here, on the twenty-seventh day of April, 1822, the future General was born. Our title page reproduces faithfully a capital photograph of the home in which he first saw the light, with the physician, who introduced him into this breathing world, standing in the gateway. The dwelling, still substantially unchanged, is now visited by many curious and patriotic pilgrims. The two trees yet standing in front were planted by the hand of Jesse Grant."[11]

Jesse and Hannah Grant "went to live in the one-story frame house which Jesse had rented from Lee

10. Headley, Rev. P. C.: The Life and Campaigns of Lieut. Gen. U. S. Grant, from His Boyhood to the Surrender of Lee, Derby and Miller, Pubs., NYC, 1866, p. 19. Has woodcut.

Thompson. . . . The house was one of the best in the village, built by Thompson in 1817, a two-room frame building, sixteen by nineteen and one-half feet in size, its roof steep, its exterior boarded in Allegheny pine, a large chimney rising at the north end. A spacious fireplace in which Hannah cooked dominated the living room; the bedroom at the south was tiny."[12]

And so it went as other Grant biographies were examined – descriptions of the home in which Ulysses S. Grant was born were the same – an "ordinary frame house."[13] Once more history applied to numismatics brings truth to erase a mistake that has persisted for many years.

12. Lewis, Lloyd: Captain Sam Grant, Little, Brown and Co., Boston, 1950, p. 15. (Lists these as sources on the first home of Jesse and Hannah Grant: Louis H. Everts, History of Clermont, Ohio, Philadelphia, 1880, p. 380; Henry Howe, Historical Collection of Ohio, three volumes in two, Columbus, 1889-1891, Vol. I, pp. 419-420; Richardson, Albert D., p. 48 [See above]; C. B. Galbreath, "Centennial Anniversary of the Birth of Ulysses S. Grant," Ohio Archaeological and Historical Quarterly, XXXI, 1922, pp. 234-235.)
13. The subsequent history of the Grant house is quickly told. For sixty-five years after Ulysses S. Grant's birth, the building stood on a quiet side street of Point Pleasant, population one hundred. Then it was torn from its foundations and placed on exhibition in nearby Cincinnati. The next year it was purchased by H. T. Chittenden and taken to Columbus, Ohio, for the centennial of Ohio pioneers. In the following decade the building was on tour after which it was returned to Columbus for another forty years. In 1936 the building was returned to Point Pleasant under the auspices of the Ohio Historical Society and restored to its 1822 condition through the efforts of Judge Hugh L. Nichols. "Clapboards of the proper specifications were placed over the long exposed timbers and a fence similar to the one seen in old engravings was built around it." (Letter from Robert S. Walker, Public Information Officer, Ohio Historical Society, March 31, 1959.)

YOU HAVE ROMAN BLOOD IN YOUR VEINS!

By

Earle K. Stanton

THIS is an evangelistic appeal to general collectors that they may see the Great Light and shortly be converted to the gospel of Ancient Numismatics. And, if you believe that blood is thicker than water, the assertion that you probably have Roman blood in your veins should be a clinching argument. While this cannot be guaranteed in each and every case, the general thesis is not difficult to prove.

If your ancestors came from Central Europe, your family tree, go you back far enough, most likely will be found to evidence some old Roman branches or roots emanating from the ubiquitous Roman occupation and colonization of ancient times. If your ancestors hailed from Italy they came from the very heart of the Roman Empire. Or, if you are of French descent, remember that France is the Gaul that Julius Caesar conquered for Rome. Many of us are of English extraction, and since Britain was occupied by the Romans for some 400 years the blood strain can hardly be doubted.

The old Romans were great colonizers; their armies, officers, merchants and others traveled to and settled in all parts of the great Latin territory, intermarried with the native peoples – and there you are! From this extensive colonization came much of the civilized population of Europe as we have it today. The Latin language, somewhat altered in appearance and pronunciation, has become French, Italian, Spanish, Portugese, Roumanian, not to speak of our own English which is some 70% derived from the Latin.

This Roman colonization was no haphazard affair but a deliberate, well advised procedure designed to extend the empire and to Romanize the conquered peoples. After Rome had successfully waged war, and this was ofttimes their chief occupation, a part of the conquered territory was turned over to some of the poorer Roman citizens who were thus induced to leave Rome and become colonists. This was the Civil Colonization. Such procedure served a dual purpose; it provided a needed outlet for Rome's overpopulation, and it implanted Roman customs in the colony. These colonists founded new towns or improved old ones and did whatever was necessary to carry on the old traditions. A fairly common coin shows a founder or colonist plowing out the boundaries of a new colony.

There was also a well developed Military Colonization in all parts of the Empire. A soldier's pay was never large but this extensive colonization enabled him to look forward to some piece of land on which he could establish himself. Scipio followed this procedure after the Second Punic War but the idea did not become an accepted practice until the time of Pompey, Caesar and Augustus. As a special inducement, Roman soldiers were sometimes offered a promotion in rank if they would leave the capital and plant themselves in the colonies.

This colonization quickly took root and the provincial cities soon became small models of the parent city of Rome. Often they boasted of an arena or amphitheater modeled after the great Colosseum in Rome, built about A. D. 70. A rare sestertius struck by the Emperor Titus depicts this famous arena. Today one can easily visit both the Colosseum and some of these provincial arenas at Nimes and Arles in France and in many other old Roman cities. Roman and Greek theaters are to be found in various places such as Taormina and Syracuse in Sicily.

From a modest and inexpensive collection of Roman coins with their informative reverse designs, one can learn much about how the people lived and their habits. Coupled with well preserved remains in Pompeii and elsewhere, a clear picture of First Century existence is presented. It is surprising to find that, aside from electricity and a few other modern improvements, they lived much as we do. There was, for example, hot air heating, running water, in some cases even elevators. Their houses, temples and courts were much like our own.

There were, of course, some differences. For examples, in place of watching television killer-programs, the Roman did much better. He watched a few gladiators do away with each other, or perhaps a few luckless Christians were thrown to discriminating lions. It may be added that should similar performances be scheduled in today's world, you and I, with our old Roman blood, would be there in person.

Roman coins were struck in many different mint cities located in various parts of the Empire from England to Africa and from Spain to Asia Minor. Sometimes the mint name or abbreviation is given; in other cases the mintage is determined by style. The old Romans were literally everywhere so that your chances of escaping this blood strain are not too good. It may well be that one of your ancestors helped carry the war chest of the Emperor Allectus in England in A. D. 293-296. Going back still farther, perhaps some of them were with Julius Caesar when he invaded Britain about B. C. 55. These are intriguing thoughts and by no means beyond the realm of possibility.

You may or may not wish to acquire a large collection of Roman coins but you should at least add to your cabinet a few pieces struck by these, your ancestors. The coins of Julius Caesar, although not too plentiful if you demand his portrait, are by no means museum pieces; you will likely pay much less than for certain U. S. coins which have little or no history connected with their issue. This same period produced other famous Romans whose portrait coins may be obtained – Pompey, Antony, even Queen Cleopatra herself. Or perhaps you would like to possess coins of Brutus, Cassius, Casca, Decimus Brutus, numbered among Caesar's murderers. The coins of Augustus and Tiberius, emperors during the time of Christ, are most interesting.

Augustus, the first emperor, 29 B. C.-14 A. D., struck many coins some of which are fairly common and inexpensive. The mere fact that he governed Rome for some 40 years is a record in itself. The next hundred-odd years saw the Empire steadily pushing ahead, reaching its geographical limits in the time of Trajan, 98-117 A. D. His reign, together with that of Nerva, Hadrian, Antoninus Pius and Marcus Aurelius, the Five Good Emperors, gave Rome a prosperous period of 84 years. Their coins are not uncommon and are both beautiful and of historic interest. The coins of Vespasian and his son Titus, the conquerors of Judaea, 69-81 A. D., are likewise commended to your attention. Nor should you miss the nefarious Emperor Nero, 54-68, A. D. in whose reign St. Paul was tried. Incidentally, some of the most artistic coins were struck in his reign.

If your suppositious ancestors lived after this period they may have seen the Empire slowly but surely disintegrating. Besides some 50 legitimate emperors, many usurpers, arose in various parts of the land. Most of the reigns, legitimate and otherwise, were short, for the accepted modus operandi of becoming an emperor was to murder your predecessors. Some of them should have been murdered.

Among the lowest priced Roman coins are the small bronze pieces put out by Constantine the Great, 308-337 A. D. and his sons. Known as the first Christian emperor, neither his coins nor his life evidence much real Christianity. At least the new religion was duly recognized during his reign, and in this period the capital was moved to Constantinople where many of the coins were minted.

However thin and watery your drop of Roman blood may be, or even be it nonexistent, you are still touched at all points by Roman culture, laws, customs and procedures. Rome's governing body was a senate, not too different, fundamentally, from our own. Much of our law comes to us from Rome by way of England; lawyers still like to talk about habeas corpus, corpus delicti, and what not. The doctors are even more mysterious and usually disguise your prescription with Latin words. It is, indeed, a hopeless task to try to escape our Roman heritage.

If you enjoy art or architecture, there is much of it to be found depicted on ancient coins; many of the coins are, in themselves, superb works of art. Many famous Roman buildings are pictured: the Circus Maximus, Trajan's Column, Nero's Triumphal Arch and Temple of Janus, are among the subjects numismatically shown. Court houses, light houses, monuments, bridges and altars are likewise pictured. Some of these structures are still standing, more or less intact. If you are concerned with pagan deities you may obtain Roman coins depicting the Twelve Great Gods, and any number of lesser gods and personified virtues. Or, you may amass a collection of coins mentioned in the Bible, including the famous Tribute penny or denarius of the Emperor Tiberius, 14-37 A. D.

You need not worry overmuch concerning your ignorance about ancient history. So intriguing are these coins that, after obtaining your first pieces, you will find yourself curious enough about some period or emperor to look up the matter in an encyclopedia or history. By now the Romans are pretty thoroughly written up, often in an easy, readable style. Try, for example, old Suetonius, a shocking scandal monger not to be outdone by any modern best sellers. "I, Claudius," by Robert Graves, semi-fictional but fairly authentic, is a lively account of that emperor's reign, 41-54 A. D. So you see that no excuse exists for evading this phase of numismatics.

Have your blue blood microscopically examined by a numismatically trained expert and if there is even a suggestion, or a scintilla of evidence that Roman blood is in your veins, make the most of it and enter this interesting field. It is guaranteed to reduce your blood pressure, inflate your ego, and alleviate the pangs of mediocrity.

Nigeria's Central Bank and Currency — At the opening of the Central Bank Building in Lagos on July 1, the date on which the issue of national Nigerian currency also began, the Federal Minister of Finance stated that Nigerian currency would in the initial stages be backed one hundred per cent by sterling reserves. The Central Bank Ordinance requires that in the first five years of its operations sterling reserves shall be equal to at least sixty per cent of the notes and coin in circulation.

Coins in greatest demand in fiscal 1958 were one cent pieces and dimes, the two accounting for 85% of the denominations issued for circulation. Others, in descending order, were the five cent pieces (8.1%), quarters (5.2%), half dollars (1.3%) and silver dollars (0.7%). (The one cent pieces totaled 72% and the dimes 12.7%.)

Book Review

"The Secret of the Good Samaritan Shilling — Supplemented with Notes on Other Genuine and Counterfeit Massachusetts Silver Coins" (1959) by Eric P. Newman of St. Louis, Mo. Published by the American Numismatic Society, Broadway at 156th St., New York 32, N. Y. Numismatic Notes & Monographs No. 142, ix + 71 pp. + IX plates, paper bound.

Eric Newman has documented another of his scholarly numismatic research projects in depth. Again he has patiently investigated enough leads to satisfy a mystery-story addict. It turns out that there are only two specimens of the Massachusetts Good Samaritan silver shilling of 1652, and they differ from each other. The Earl of Pembroke specimen, known since about 1700, has been in the British Museum since 1848. Bushnell imported the Parmalee-Ryder-Boyd piece from England in 1858.

If only these two specimens exist, how can it be worth anyone's time to read eighty pages or so about them? Simply because the origin of these pieces has been a well-publicized numismatic mystery for over two hundred years. Are they genuine coins struck along with Pine Tree shillings at the first mint in the British-American colonies? Or are they spurious fabrications? An English collector wrote to Boston for a Good Samaritan shilling in 1767, but none could be found. However, specimens were actually illustrated in English books, namely the Pembroke Collection (1746), Folkes (1763), Snelling (1769), and Ruding (1817); and also in American books by Felt (1839), Dickeson (1859), Crosby (1873), Evans (1885), Raymond (1935, etc.), and Yeoman (1946, etc.). Many authors expressed strongly-held beliefs as to the authenticity or spuriousness of the Good Samaritan shilling, but no one bothered to get the facts until Newman performed his research. After two hundred years, the trail was pretty cold. However, when a St. Louis librarian helped to open the door to the real meaning of FAC SIMILE and after Newman had personally inspected and studied both Good Samaritan shillings, the elements of the puzzle started to fall into place.

The monograph is eminently readable, the plates are excellent and the index is comprehensive. The publication supplements Crosby on this subject and adds many genuine and counterfeit varieties to Sydney P. Noe's three A.N.S. monographs covering the New England, Willow, Oak and Pine Tree silver coinage.

The author cites and quotes solid, old-fashioned references, with which more of us should be familiar. Examples: Burn's London Tradesmen's Tokens (1855), Hawkins's The Silver Coins of England (1841), Hickox's An Historical Account of American Coinage (1858), Frossard's Numisma magazine (1883), Attinelli's Numisgraphics (1876) and a multitude of others.

Newman is one of those fortunate few who knows how to get the ultimate satisfaction from coin collecting. He not only enjoys the coins themselves and gets great pleasure in finding the whys and wherefores of their history; but also, fortunately for all of us, he "travels the second mile" to share the story widely by publication. There are many among readers of The Numismatist who could achieve the same degree of satisfaction. American numismatics is full of myths and hence it is wide open for much-needed research and publication, directly from source material.

By the way, were the Good Samaritan shillings true coin or spurious? Telling you would be like prematurely disclosing the outcome of a good detective story. You'd better read the monograph. It will be rewarding. – R. H. WILLIAMSON

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARIAN

By

John J. Gabarron, LM 279

Our new feature at the convention, the numismatic publications display, was a tremendous success. The table was crowded most of the time, all books and materials getting a real "going over." Everyone seemed well pleased with what is being published and produced for their numismatic pleasure.

I am taking orders, now, for the new index to The Numismatist, 1939 through 1958. Copies sell for $1.00 each to A.N.A. members and $1.50 to non-members.

A new library catalog will be printed and sent to all members in the near future.

I had a nice visit with A. C. Werner, of Miami, at the library last month. We were to meet again in Portland but Al was taken ill in Denver and didn't make it. Hope you're feeling better, A. C.

I know this sounds familiar but it is a real problem at the library. Many members are slow in returning books. Many are two months overdue and some as late as four months. Please return your books on time, others are waiting. I again ask members who have not received books they have ordered to be patient.

I wish to thank the following for donations to the library; Gary Krug, Dr. John Lhotka, Dr. R. Bilinski, R. S. Yeoman, R. A. Wilson, Ford Publications, Chester Krause, P. K. Anderson, and Seaby's of London.

Notes & Queries

Now We Have 1943-S Copper Cents!

Two 1943-S copper cents have been reported in widely separated states. One is in the hands of George Pearce, 506 W. Thorain St., San Antonio, Texas. The other is owned by Lucille Steck, 481 Main St., Belleville, Mich. As nothing but zinc-coated steel cents were minted officially in 1943, neither owner can explain the existence of these bronze or copper pieces. Can you?

The Michael Powills Coin Collection Stolen

While Michael Powills was en route from Portland, Ore., to the Canadian Numismatic Association convention, his home at 9645 S. Leavitt St., Chicago, Ill. was burglarized and most of his extensive coin collection taken. Mrs. Powills, who did not accompany her husband, was away from home for a short time during mid afternoon of the day the theft occurred. Upon returning home she found the burglars, evidently knowing exactly what they were looking for, had made a shambles of the house in their thorough search for the coins. Fortunately, an excellent numismatic library was untouched.

The Powills collection contained many rare and scarce pieces. Among the stolen items were a series of French essays, patterns and trial pieces in single, double and triple thicknesses from the Count Ferrari collection; Japanese paper money ex-Ramsden; a comprehensive series of Oriental coins, including many trial, pattern and essay pieces; German emergency money in various metals, and notgeld notes in a large album; numerous Mexican Revolutionary coins, including many from the George Brown collection; hundreds of foreign gold coins; early United States pieces in choice condition, especially half cents, large cents, half dimes and dimes. A high percentage of the Powills collection was in the finest condition.

If you are offered any coins that you suspect might be from the Powills cabinet, you are urged to communicate at once with the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or Chicago Commissioner of Police.

Comment on Matelis Article

Dear Editor:

In V. L. G. Matelis's article on Lincoln themes and National Coin Week (Numismatist, August issue), he mentions that possibly the earliest use of Lincoln's portrait on notes was the $1 Bank of Commerce of Georgetown, D. C. note which bears a patent date of April 23, 1860. This date, which he probably misconstrued refers to National Bank Note Company's border and denomination designs used to prevent counterfeiting.

The note as described by D. C. Wismer bears the following: "Will be paid in United States Demand Notes when five dollars are presented." Therefore, the note could not have been patented or issued prior to the Act of July 17, 1861, which authorized the first of the United States demand notes of 1861. Lincoln was nominated as a candidate on May 18, 1860, so it is doubtful that a District of Columbia bank would have considered him important enough to use his likeness prior to that date.

This particular piece was obtained from Mexico, and is very crude. The piece was included along with a drawing of a medal giving magic-number series, dated 1630. The latter drawing is by no stretch of the imagination a calendar piece. However, the piece illustrated is a calendar of some sort, its use being unknown to the authors.

Come ye all, in one common interest.
Come ye alle with coyne of the realm,

ERRATA

In the article on the Champlain Commemorative medal in the August Numismatist, page 948, reference to Newport, Va., is made in three places. The correct state should be Vermont (Vt.)

On page 964 of the August Numismatist, the diameter of the Alaska Statehood medal should have been given as two and a half inches (not two and a quarter).

The People to People Program

It is a pleasure to announce the appointment of George S. Vanderwende of Vienna, Va., to the Numismatic Committee of the People to People Program. He is a retired foreign service officer of the USIA, his last post in the Philippines where he was an active member of the Philippine Numismatic and Antiquarian Society. Vanderwende has been interested in numismatics for many years, and is a member of the A.N.A., the Washington (D.C.) Numismatic Society, and the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association. With his wide experience abroad, Vanderwende should be most helpful to this committee, which includes: Lewis M. Reagan, Co-Chairman, Sawyer McA. Mosser, Rear Admiral Oscar H. Suggested Design of Cuban Commemorative Coin

The Sociedad Numismática Cubana has requested the President of the Banco Nacional de Cuba to suggest to the proper government authorities the issuance of a silver peso commemorating the triumph of the Revolution on January 1, 1959, including a very limited number of brilliant proofs.

The design submitted is a close replica, with slight variations, of the first attempted coinage which bore the arms of the republic in the "Ten Years' War, 1868-78": The patterns of 1870. The suggested peso bears on the reverse, within the wreath, the motto which has been made official by the Revolutionary government to commemorate the event: AÑO DE LA LIBERACIÓN (Year of the Liberation).

The project is reported as being favorably considered. – LUIS F. ARDOIS, ROBERTO PESANT, JOSE D. ACOSTA of the Sociedad Numismática Cubana

The maximum limit on the note issue of the Bank of Japan was raised on June 10 to eight hundred billion yen from the limit of December, 1956, of six hundred fifty billion yen.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The first business session of the 68th annual convention was called to order at 9:30 a.m. in the Multnomah Hotel, Portland, Oregon, on August 27, 1959, with President Oscar H. Dodson in the chair.

The invocation was given by Rev. R. A'Court Simmonds.

The President introduced the General Chairman, William N. Worth, who extended cordial greetings and expressed the hope that all those present would have a pleasant and satisfying convention. He praised the efforts of his committees and made some announcements of special events and facilities.

The General Chairman introduced the Hon. Howell Appling, Jr., Secretary of the State of Oregon, who delivered the Address of Welcome.

The President called for a brief period of silent prayer in tribute to the memory of members deceased during the year.

First Vice President Glenn B. Smedley assumed the chair and invited the President to present his annual report.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

GENERAL

The American Numismatic Association has just completed the most successful year in its long history. Total applications for membership were 2,725 – a new record. Our income was in excess of $142,000, expenses were $124,000, leaving a surplus of $18,000. This fiscal record is also better than for any previous year in our history.

The credit for our flourishing membership and our strong financial position falls mainly on three members, all towers of strength, our general secretary, Mr. Lewis M. Reagan, our editor, Mr. Elston Bradfield, and the newest member of our professional staff, our advertising manager, Mr. S. W. Freeman. Much of their work is routine, some of it borders on sheer drudgery. For their time given to the A.N.A., and for their overtime, they are underpaid; yet in devotion and loyalty they have never failed to do their job, and to do it superbly.

With a rapidly expanding membership, the association must not overlook its responsibility to thousands of our new members. They must be encouraged to join local clubs, to attend regional and national conventions, to use the extensive and rewarding facilities of our library, but, above all, they should be stimulated to a high degree of curiosity about their own coins, in order to hold their interest and to insure their advance from mere accumulators to informed collectors.

THE LATE BURTON SAXTON

This convention is the first one in more than ten years in which our former advertising manager, the late Burton Saxton, is not present to make important contributions. We are grateful for his devoted service and we shall miss his presence and counsel.

THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

We are indebted to our sister organization, the American Numismatic Society of New York City for their participation in our A.N.A. conventions. Here at Portland, the society has placed on exhibition their fascinating display of coins of the century. This exhibit along with recent publications of the society is attracting widespread interest.

INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION

The world in which we live is divided into two armed camps. To students of history this is a dangerously familiar situation. The capacity for destruction is such that neither side really wants war. To ease the tensions in this world of ideological conflict a program was conceived by President Eisenhower in the firm belief that expanded relationships between Americans and the peoples of other nations would go far toward building better international understanding and security through peace. President Eisenhower appealed to all national American organizations to aid in this program. I am proud to state that the A.N.A. has strongly supported the President's people-to-people program. In co-operation with this campaign, and in furtherance of the U. S. state department's cultural exchange program, your president in June visited numismatic societies in central Europe and the U.S.S.R. An informal report of this visit with emphasis on experiences in the Soviet Union will be made as part of this convention's educational program on Thursday night.

Another project under the people-to-people program is the current campaign for numismatic book donations for a library to be presented to the numismatic and antiquarian society of the Philippine Islands to replace their library which was lost during the destruction of Manila in World War Two.

Last year a campaign was successfully carried through to raise funds to bring a prominent foreign numismatist to our A.N.A. convention. An invitation was extended but he was unable to accept. The funds raised for this purpose are intact pending a future invitation. It is expected that we will have a leading European numismatist as our guest at the Boston convention next summer.

THE A.N.A. OFFICIAL FAMILY

This report would be grossly incomplete without a tribute to those members of our official family, the elected and appointed officers, who have faithfully and ably served the A.N.A., giving freely of their time without compensation, or in some instances for a modest allowance. As most of you are aware, our board members and other officers are expected to attend national conventions. Allowance is made for railroad or plane fare and $10.00 per day during the convention. These officers receive no other compensation. At conventions, they must devote most of their time to A.N.A. affairs, including three executive board meetings, each meeting usually lasting three to four hours. They must forego the pleasant sight-seeing trips and social activities to concentrate on resolving the multitude of problems which arise each year. In addition, throughout the year they are frequently called upon for recommendations, research, committee reports, and other obligations which are time consuming, but which are also essential if the membership is to receive the numismatic service which you have a right to expect. Each of the officers serving with me has made a valuable contribution to the A.N.A. and the advancement of numismatics.

COMPLAINTS

The A.N.A. continues to receive a large number of complaints. Many of these are merely petty disputes betwen members and dealer members. In order to reduce these complaints and misunderstandings to a minimum, the association attempts to maintain the highest standards of advertising in The Numismatist, rejecting any offered advertisement which appears to be unreliable, misleading, or unethical. However, our association is limited in the action which it may take in regard to many complaints. The association cannot act as a collection agency; it cannot arbitrate disputes on coin grading; it cannot act as police officer, postal inspector, nor as judge or jury. Within the realm of our limited authority we will continue efforts to resolve justified complaints; but please keep in mind that the A.N.A. cannot supervise, regulate, or control the coin business, nor would it be desirable for us to attempt to do so.

THE A.N.A. OF THE FUTURE

What kind of a tomorrow would you like to have? What kind of an organization would you prefer to see the A.N.A. become in the years ahead?

With our 17,000 members residing not only in the United States, but also in sixty nations abroad, we are truly an international organization. Yet we are trying to administer our vastly expanded association on a rattle trap model "T" structure. It is kept from bogging down only through the experience and zeal of our professional staff.

To streamline and modernize our organization we must seriously consider many plans. We need a building fund and plans for a future national headquarters to bring together under one roof our scattered offices: each year we lose collections which would have been donated to the A.N.A. if we possessed a museum with provision for exhibition and security: we require renewal and modification of our federal charter: we must develop more effective methods of pleading our cause in Washington, D. C., for example, on gold certificates and gold bars and legislation to outlaw altering mintmarks and dates; we should devise methods of warning our new members against sharp practices by a few.

Most of these are long range plans. They are under study; some of them should be firm in the near future. However, action will be taken only after careful study and full approval of our executive board. Our board members realize, of course, the desirability and obligation of keeping the membership fully informed.

Since this is an election year, the decision as to whether these future plans will be carried out by the present administration, or by new leadership, rests, as it should, upon our members. This is your association. It belongs to every one of you, and I hope that each of you will take a personal interest in plans for the future progress of the A.N.A.

CONCLUSION

The annual reports of our officers reflect a steady growth and a sound financial condition, but only through a vigorous and enlightened membership will we insure continued progress.

It was moved and carried that the Report of the President be accepted with thanks and that recommendations contained therein be referred to appropriate committees.

The President resumed the chair.

The President announced the appointment of the various committees, whose names follow their respective reports.

The President called for the report of the Credentials Committee.

REPORT OF THE CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE

The Committee has inspected the official register and finds that there is more than the minimum number of members registered to constitute a quorum. The Committee therefore declares that this assembly is empowered to transact such business as may come before the convention.

JOHN C. BUSHNELL, Chairman

It was moved and carried that the report be accepted.

The President presented the report of the Auditor and it was moved and carried that it be referred to the Auditing Committee.

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

The Executive Board, American Numismatic Association:

We have examined the accompanying statement of cash, investments and deposits of American Numismatic Association at June 30, 1959 and the related statement of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended.

The accounting records of American Numismatic Association are maintained and the statements mentioned above are prepared on a basis of cash receipts and cash disbursements; therefore, amounts receivable for membership dues, advertising and other income are not recorded in the accounts until payment is received and, similarly, liabilities for expense and capital items are not recorded in the accounts until payment is made. Also, it is the policy of the Association that capital expenditures, e.g., equipment and additions to the coin collection, are not recorded as assets.

Our examination, the scope of which is outlined below, was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

SCOPE OF EXAMINATION

Our examination of the cash transactions included the following:

(1) Cash balances in banks as confirmed directly to us by depositaries were reconciled with amounts shown in the accounting records of the Association. Cash on hand was counted.

(2) Receipts recorded in the accounting records were traced to deposits on the bank statements. Receipts for membership dues were tested in total by comparing recorded receipts for the year with an estimate of such receipts determined by reference to the membership roster. Advertising receipts were tested by comparing recorded receipts with amounts computed by reference to advertisements appearing in The Numismatist and with published advertising rates. Amounts shown in memorandum records as unpaid for advertising were tested by correspondence with selected advertisers. Subscription receipts were tested by tracing individual receipts to subscription expiration cards. Net proceeds from the 1958 convention were traced to the report submitted by the Convention Committe.

(3) Tests were made of cash disbursements by reference to vouchers and other supporting data. Canceled checks returned by the banks were examined and compared with the cash disbursement records.

U. S. government savings bonds were inspected by us. Transactions for the year were analyzed and traced to related entries on the bank statements. Interest receivable during the year on government bonds was computed and traced to deposits shown on the bank statements.

Deposits with Trans World Airlines, Inc. and U. S. Post Office Department were confirmed by direct correspondence.

OPINION OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Based on our examination, as previously outlined under the caption "Scope of Examination", in our opinion the accompanying statements present fairly the cash, investments and deposits of American Numismatic Association at June 30, 1959 and the cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended and are prepared on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The President called on the Second Vice President, Matt H. Rothert, for his annual report.

REPORT OF THE SECOND VICE PRESIDENT

I am happy to have this opportunity of thanking the A.N.A. Club Representatives, the local clubs, the regional societies and their respective secretaries, who have made my work so pleasant and so rewarding during the past year.

This office has published the A.N.A. Officers Bulletin, Volume VIII, during the year, and copies were mailed to all Club Representatives. Extra copies are available to any member who desires them.

We received more reports from local clubs this year than in any previous year. These were condensed so as to bring out new ideas for club meetings and club procedures, and were published in the Bulletin, Vol. VIII, No. 3.

There was a significant increase in the number of inquiries received with regard to the procedure for organizing new clubs and more than 100 new clubs were organized during the year. Special Bulletin, Vol. VII, No. 4, published in July, 1958, contains this information and was sent to those making inquiry on how to organize a new club. In addition to the Bulletin, a letter was prepared which included other pertinent data. We have helped many new clubs to come into existence and a continued correspondence has been conducted with many of them.

Our Bulletin Vol. VIII, No. 1, includes a report of the meeting of Club Representatives last year in Los Angeles, and a report of the meeting to be held tomorrow will be included in the Bulletin to be issued in the near future.

Many clubs are still without an officially-appointed representative and some clubs have not yet affiliated with the A.N.A. Invitations to those clubs will be sent to recommend or nominate a representative, and to join the Association if they have not yet done so.

New appointments and reappointments of all club representatives will be made following this convention and identification cards will be sent with the next issue of the Bulletin.

This office is glad to assist any local club or any group which desires to form a local club.

Respectfully submitted,

MATT H. ROTHERT, Second Vice President

It was moved and carried that the report of the Second Vice President be accepted with thanks.

The President invited the Editor to submit his report.

EDITOR'S REPORT

In the fiscal year closed June 30, The Numismatist passed the 20,000 mark in circulation with a readership distributed over some sixty countries. Each issue was of 128 pages except for a commemorative number. This was the Theodore Roosevelt centennial special of November, 1958, 160 pages, wherein coins, paper money, tokens and medals associated with him were described, illustrated and listed as a unit for the first time. The December, 1958, Numismatist, contained a supplemental listing, description and illustrations of Lafayette tokens, medals, etc.

The heart attack of Burton H. Saxton, our Advertising Manager for fifteen years, suffered at the Los Angeles convention followed by his death a month later saddened his countless friends throughout the numismatic world. The Editor and his wife were close personal friends of Burton and felt his passing most keenly. Burton was a vigorous exponent of the educational, historical, artistic and scientific sides of numismatics and gave little thought to profit in his own personal coin collecting activities. His lack of coin profit motive did not affect his relationship with coin dealers, with whom he was most cordial and friendly. This resulted in a constant and steady increase of advertising revenues year after year. He was especially pleased when he passed the $40,000 "barrier" in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958.

The Association was most fortunate in obtaining the services of a man with both experience and ability to succeed Burton Saxton. The A.N.A. Executive Board appointed S. W. Freeman, Newport, Ark., as Assistant Advertising Manager on the day after Burton's heart attack, and as Advertising Manager upon his death. Freeman immediately came to grips with the realities of his position, performing the duties of his office most competently and efficiently. Close cooperation and friendly consultation between the new Advertising Manager and the Editor continues as it did before.

Those of us concerned with The Numismatist are always alert to methods to improve the magazine. Although many of these changes may be so minor as to escape the notice of many readers, their total contribute to an over-all improvement. One of the major problems, that of shortening the lag between both editorial and advertising deadlines and the date the magazine is off the press and in the mail, is peculiar to organization publications in which editor, advertising manager, printer, etc., are widely separated geographically. After long consideration and consultation between the Advertising Manager, the Editor and the printer, a solution seems to have been reached that should shorten the lag by a week or ten days. (For the record, the September issue was placed in the mails August 26 and should be in the hands of many of its readers by September 1, instead of the usual September 8 or 10.)

Older A.N.A. members are familiar with the fifty-year index to The Numismatist which covers the period 1888-1938. The lack of a later index has handicapped students in numismatic research, although an annual index has been a part of the December number of recent years. A few years ago our former Librarian, Mrs. D. Dee DeNise, was appointed to prepare a supplemental index. This index, spanning the period 1939 through 1958, is now off the press and available from the A.N.A. Librarian at $1.00 a copy. The fifty-year index is out of print but occasionally appears on dealers' price lists or at auctions.

Members of the American Numismatic Association should be grateful, as the Editor is, to those who give their efforts and talents to numismatic research and then incorporate the results in papers which they submit for possible publication. These men and women are few in proportion to the total membership but they are a mighty force for spreading the message of coin collecting. The Editor feels most humble in the presence of some of these numismatic scholars and is pleased that they chose The Numismatist as their medium of communication.

The Editor thanks all who have made the 1958-1959 fiscal year such a good one in the annals of our magazine now in its seventy-second year, and expresses his gratitude to all contributors, A.N.A. officers and governors, club and regional officers, Advertising Manager S. W. Freeman, Messrs. Mayo and Howell of McCormick-Armstrong Co., and his good wife Jeannie.

ELSTON G. BRADFIELD, Editor

This new acquisition was purchased with funds given the A.N.A. by Mrs. Rae Moss and will be added to the library as part of the Col. Joseph Moss Memorial Library. We received many new books, valuable duplicates and a great many back issue Numismatists from our beloved friend, the late Burton H. Saxton.

REPORT OF THE CURATOR

In the fiscal year 1958-1959 the Curator received a total of 94 coins and one medal for the A.N.A. Moritz Wormser Memorial Collection which is on permanent loan to The Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., and is exhibited by it in the Numismatic Department. The Association's acquisition numbers for these pieces are 2246 to 2340 inclusive, and a list of the items is attached. The coins have been forwarded to Dr. V. Clain-Stefanelli, Curator of Numismatics at the Smithsonian.

Of the coins added to the A.N.A. collection, 54 were acquired by purchase, whereas 40 coins and one medal were by donation. Among the donors were:

R. B. Burroughs, Bangkok, Thailand
R. J. McGarrigle, U. S. Army Audit Agency
G. M. Tellalian, A.N.A. District Secretary for Turkey
J. E. Barr, Berwyn, Illinois
V. F. Torhan, Numismatic Company of America, Springfield, N. J.

E. F. Vicente, Sao Paulo, Brazil
Lt. J. G. Sandrock, United States Navy
P. I. De Jesus, Manila, Philippines
Don Allen, Montreal, Canada
Major S. S. Carroll, London, Ontario, Canada
The Chase Manhattan Bank, New York City

The Association is grateful to the above donors for their generous contributions towards enriching its collection of 20th Century Coins at the Smithsonian. Most of the gifts have been forwarded to the Curator by Mr. Ernst Kraus who is doing a splendid job in reporting new issues of foreign countries for the Numismatist. Mr. V. F. Torhan has been particularly cooperative in presenting material to the collection.

The medals issued by the Society of Medalists are not included in this report as they are being held for special exhibition purposes. The collection of medals presented to the Association last year by Mrs. Dwight P. Spencer are still in the custody of the Curator except for 51 pieces which were donated to The American Numismatic Society.

For the year 1958-1959 the Curator spent $63.25 for new coins, $10.00 for A.N.A. membership in The Society of Medalists, and $10.00 for two of the Society's medals. A financial statement is attached.

REPORT OF THE EDWARD T. NEWELL VISUAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE FOR 1958-59

Your Committee is pleased to report that there were 315 slide set showings during the past year. This was an increase over the previous year and shows that this highly effective form of visual education is in continually increasing demand. With the expected early addition of several new slide sets, it is hoped that even more clubs will use this means of acquiring and disseminating numismatic knowledge. This number of showings, 315, may be compared with previous years' figures as follows:

1958	306	1955	303
1957	243	1954	230
1956	307	1953	201

The most popular slide set was No. 17, "Coins with Special Significance." This set was shown 33 times. The next most popular set, No. 3, "U. S. Types, Half Cents to Twenty Cents," was shown 30 times. The slide sets were shown in 42 of the 50 states, with Illinois leading with 46 slide showings, California next with 40, Pennsylvania third with 26, and Kansas fourth with 16 showings.

At this time, your Committee wishes to congratulate the Custodian of Slides, Michael Dolnick, for the splendid manner in which he has handled requests for slide sets during the past year and thanks him for his friendly cooperation at all times.

Mr. Cyrus H. Phillips, A.N.A. No. 10100, reports that the set of slides prepared for and on permanent loan to the Bank of America in California, is still being used in talks entitled "Historical Background of American Coinage." This program, given before school and civic groups, is sponsored by the Bank of America. Inasmuch as Mr. Phillips' last report, for the year ending June, 1956, appeared in the 1957 report of the A.N.A. Visual Education Committee, we are now including his report for the past three years, from July 1, 1956, to June 30, 1959.

Number of Showings of the Slide Set Entitled "Historical Background of American Coinage"

Showings to For Years Ending	June 1957	June 1958	June 1959
Schools	71	33	53
Service Clubs	146	137	115
Staff Training, Bank of America	7	3
American Institute of Banking Classes		3	2
Miscellaneous Groups		2
Total Audience	23,854	19,754	23,028

This report shows that this set of slides is still being enthusiastically received by a wide audience. Mr. McRitchie, Vice President of the Bank of America, has asked your Committee Chairman to express again his appreciation to the American Numismatic Association for the cooperation received in preparing and making available this slide set for the Bank of America. At Mr. McRitchie's request, additional slides to be selected by Mr. Phillips, will be made available during the next few months in order to make the set even more interesting and informative.

Your Committee has very much enjoyed working on many new slide sets during the past year. A report of the work undertaken during this period follows:

The slide set on Korean coins which has been worked on most diligently by the past Chairman of the A.N.A. Visual Education Committee, Glenn Smedley, and Alan Craig, is nearing completion and is now at the photographers. We hope that at least one set of these photographs may be completed by the time of this Convention.

Orin Jennings plans to finish one set of slides and the lecture notes on "Coins of the Bible" by the end of August. Duplicate sets will then be made and the slide series on this popular subject will then be ready for use.

Jack Koch has been working on a sound tape for slide set No. 10, "Confederate States of American Currency," and plans to have this tape ready at the time of this Convention. It will then be available as an alternate method of presenting the lecture notes for this slide set. Heretofore, the lecture notes have been read. Should this sound tape be well received, it is planned to make this type of presentation available with other slide sets.

Dr. John Lhotka expects to have the lecture notes for a slide set on Roman Republican coins ready by Labor Day. Dr. Lhotka is also assembling the necessary coins of which photographs will be made to accompany the lecture notes. This slide set promises to be of the same high calibre as the sets previously prepared by Professor Lhotka.

M. Vernon Sheldon, along with J. D. Ferguson, is arranging to photograph the paper money of Canada so that a slide series on this subject will be available. Your Committee Chairman is also working toward getting the slide sets in order on Canadian coins and it is anticipated that the three slide sets on the coins and paper money of Canada will be ready during the coming year, with the decimal series available first.

Mr. John Dunn, A.N.A. No. 25156, has prepared a short slide set entitled "Regular Issue Odd-Shaped Coins of the 20th Century." The slides for this set and the preliminary lecture notes have been presented by your Visual Education Committee Chairman at a number of coin club meetings, both junior and senior, and have been very well received. While showing this set, a number of other odd-shaped coins of the 20th century were recalled and are being photographed. The lecture notes are being revised by Mr.

Dunn to include these additional pieces. Mr. Dunn has offered to the A.N.A., through the Visual Education Committee, one set of these slides and the lecture notes. On behalf of the A.N.A., your Visual Education Committee has accepted this offer. As soon as the new slides and the revised lecture notes are received from Mr. Dunn, duplicate slides and notes will be prepared. This slide set, because of the general nature of the subject, will be of special interest to beginning collectors, both young and old.

Recently, fifteen new slide shipping cases were completed, due to the generosity of Mr. Philip J. More, of Evanston, Illinois, who donated his labor and power tools. The bill for materials has not been received as of this date and will therefore be reflected in next year's Visual Education Committee costs. This Committee, on behalf of the A.N.A., wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mr. More for his time and effort spent on this very worthwhile project.

The financial report of the Committee is attached.

Douglas Brown had on exhibition uncirculated sets of Mercury dimes, Roosevelt dimes, Washington quarters and Franklin half dollars. Leo LeSan displayed large U. S. cents from 1793 to 1823 and 1823 to 1857. — MRS. BARBARA NIGHTINGALE.

On July 28 the Utah Numismatic Society presented to Governor Clyde a $1,000.00 U. S. type coin collection.

At the beginning of this year's activities, club members realized there were no museums, no libraries, no schools, where the people of Utah could view the history of our nation in coins. Through various fund raising projects and seven months later the club presented the people of Utah this beautiful collection.

It contains the following one hundred and seven different type coins from 1794 to 1959, the Great Seal of Utah, a personally autographed dollar bill by Ivy Baker Priest, a 1959 proof set and ninety-one name plates of members of the Utah Numismatic Society. Each denomination was placed upon different colored velvet and encircled by stainless steel rims.

Each encirclement contains a title plate. The presentation was made by Chas. E. Vaughan, President of the Utah Numismatic Society. Curator Fred Zastrow designed and prepared the collection.

Governor Clyde has placed the gift in the rotunda of the Utah State Capitol for all to see. When in Utah, drop in and see it. — NORMAN SCHULTZ.

Auctions start promptly at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, and 3:00 p.m. Sunday, with doors opening at 10:00 a.m. each day. There will be eighteen leading dealers at bourse. About 2,000 collectors are expected. Eleven dealers occupied bourse tables. They were busy buying and selling, with a number of people coming in to have coins appraised. The event was an outstanding success, over 400 registered for the day. Among the many fine coins displayed were a brilliant uncirculated 1894-S dime owned by W. E. Johnson, and a 1879 $4.00 stella with flowing hair, by Mrs. Edith Davis – GWEN SENTIS, Secretary.

The Washington Numismatic Society was very fortunate in securing as the speaker for its August meeting Leland Howard, Assistant Director, Bureau of the U. S. Mint. Howard spoke on the operations of the mint and traced its history from the early days when the making of coins was largely a hand operation, to the present methods which are largely machine processes. He pointed out that the first step in making coins is producing the correct composition of metal which, for silver coins, would be developed in the form of a square or rectangular ingot weighing approximately 450 pounds, which is then rolled out into a thin sheet of approximately the thickness of the coins to be made. The coin blanks are then punched out of this sheet and fed into the automatic presses containing the dies. These presses exert several tons of pressure and turn out the coins at the rate of more than 100 per minute. The coins are then placed in bags and distributed through the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Banks to the various commercial banks. Howard also explained how the new coins are first designed, how models about eight inches in diameter are made, then reduced in size by the use of special equipment to the actual coin size, which is then used in producing the actual dies for making the coins. He pointed out that the relief on the coins must not be raised above the edge in order that the coins will stack properly when in use. He answered many questions from members, but the principal points raised by the group had to do with the condition of the mint coins distributed to collectors by the Treasury Department. Howard said that the coins sold were not selected but were taken from stock so the conditions would be average. Several members stated that collectors would gladly pay more for selected coins if the Treasury would furnish them but Howard pointed out that this could lead to other problems which the Treasury was not equipped to handle. The Washington Society meets the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m., at the Natural History Museum, 10th and Constitution Ave., N. W., and visitors are always welcome. – CHARLES A. PETERS, Publicity.

The Utah Numismatic Society's August 17 meeting was conducted by Gene Veirs in the absence of President Vaughan and Vice President Richards. About thirty lots of coins were auctioned off, additional lots held over until September. One lot was a medal dated 1830 commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of the Augsburg Confession by Martin Luther. The purchaser of the medal, Clifford Crane, intends to submit a report if enough interesting material can be found about it. The Buy-of-the-Month consisted of 1955 sets from all three mints at bargain price of $3.50. About forty sets were quickly sold.

Award Certificates were received by James L' Herault and Elwood Evans for work done during National Coin Week. In recent months newspaper advertisements by a cigar company depicted a Canadian Coin, then gave a value for it. One example was a 1926 nickel, $50.00 Members have had phone calls after these advertisements appeared and the public is disappointed when they find their coin is not worth the figure mentioned. Don Stewart, Sec., wrote to the company on behalf of our association, requesting that the grade and variety of the coin be mentioned. The company replied and agreed to include the variety, where necessary, in future advertisements, but would not agree to include the grade of the coin. – MRS. JACK MARLES, Publicity Officer.

The July meeting of the Los Angeles Coin Club was held on a holiday week end, but there was an outstanding attendance of 187. Wishart MacFarren spoke about art and beauty in coins and also discussed the controversial subject of cleaning coins. In collecting, the artistic representation in coins is often overlooked. The coins of the Greeks in the period of 350 to 300 B.C. stand as the most beautiful examples of medallic art ever produced. He said that when in doubt as to whether or not to clean a coin, leave it alone. According to MacFarren, nothing at all can be done to duplicate the sparkle of a mint coin. A couple of highlights of the auction are: roll of 1939-D Jefferson nickels, very good to fine, sold for $25.50. A complete set of Jefferson nickels, BU, went for $45.00. – MRS. L. R. SIMON, Sec.

The 253rd regular meeting of the Orange County Coin Club was held July 22, at Brea, Calif. Vice President Dan Harley presided in the absence of President Hogue who was called into Marine Corps Reserve training. Attendance was 121 members and guests, with two new members being admitted. A minute of silence was observed in memory of Vreeland Fraser, a long time member who served several terms as a director of the Club. He died as a result of an automobile accident in early July. Dan Harley, doubling as program chairman, introduced Jack Reeves as "Collector-of-the-Month." He spoke about his specialty, U. S. tax tokens, and displayed a number of interesting items. Since President Hogue was called to duty before the meeting, he was unable to present the program for which he had been billed, namely "Counterfeits." As a substitute, Charles Colver brought two films made by the Forest Service Department of Agriculture. These films covered the four recent major forest fires in California, showing views from both the ground and air and demonstrating various methods of fighting forest and brush fires. Although these films were far removed from numismatics, they were nevertheless of great interest. The program was followed by an auction at which Eldon H. Knaus acted as auctioneer. This was his first attempt and he did a very creditable job. – HERB BERGEN, Sec.

The 314th meeting of Brooklyn Coin Club was held August 5 at the Hotel Grenada, President Frank W. Porcaro presiding. A letter from the Editor of The Numismatist stated that the notgeld articles by O. P. Eklund have not been reprinted but might be if there is enough demand for them. A Coney Island junior coin club is getting attention from our group. A number of gripes were aired about an unethical dealer who has reportedly skipped the country after offering key coins at cut rate prices and then failing to deliver. We cannot accept mats.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be retyped for the printer; this should not be required. Mail Bid Sales listing not acceptable. It is also the policy of the magazine to limit its advertisements to those of numismatic character.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error – something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

NOTE: Reprint rights for this book were purchased in 1940 by James Kelly and the late C. E. Green and 1,000 copies were printed in 1941. These reprints, as well as the originals, are seldom obtainable and if and when available, command a prohibitive price, depriving the average collector of this valuable numismatic information. This is our main reason for printing another edition of this book.

After spending a good portion of this year acquiring and integrating a large stock of Colonial and Continental Paper Money, I am pleased to make my first offering of this material.

The notes of Connecticut are quite scarce, in most cases being canceled, and very often in worn condition. In a good many instances, these notes were patched in colonial times by pasting a backing on the torn notes with whatever was handy at the moment. These backings are very often parts of contemporary newspapers, Bibles, almanacs, account records, etc., and are very interesting in themselves. In other cases, they were sewn together or pinned with contemporary pins. Though the condition of most of these notes can be greatly improved with a little care, and the use of Scotch Permanent Paper Tape No. 810, many collectors would prefer the notes in the original condition, so no attempt has been made to improve them.

JUST ONE MAN'S OPINION

The Carson City Dollars are the most underpriced series of all coins minted.

All one has to do is check the number minted of each year and you will see that there will never be enough to supply our five (5) million or more (est.) collectors. Take the 1885 with only 228,000 minted. This would be one for about every 21 collectors. Second comes the 1881 with only 296,000 and so on. I have a few sets of the 1880 through 1885 complete in strictly BU.

Special for Set of Six. $27.95

CANADA

1759-1959

Two hundred years ago on September 13th, an English and a French General met in battle at Quebec and there they both met a soldier's death. To commemorate these two gallant officers and the birth of a new nation, which has long reached manhood through the combined efforts of the English and French settlers and the Indian tribes, the well-known British artist, Paul Vincze, has designed and modelled this superb medal, now being struck by Spink & Son, Ltd.

The obverse shows the well known profile of General Wolfe partially superimposed on the oval containing the portrait of General Montcalm. Below is an impressionist's view of the key to victory showing the British landing prior to the storming of the Heights of Abraham.

Bronze	£2.2.0	($ 6.00)
Silver	£4.10.0	($ 12.50)
9 ct. Gold	£35.0.0	($100.00)
18 ct. Gold	£80.0.0	($225.00)
22 ct. Gold ...	£105.0.0	($300.00)

The gold medals are limited to 200 specimens, the silver to 2,000.

The gold medals will be supplied in a fine leather case, the silver and bronze in card boxes. Leather cases can be supplied for the silver and bronze medals at £21-1- ($5.50).

The reverse. An allegorical composition portraying the British, French and Indian nations working together from 1759 in building the nation of Canada—"Tria juncta in uno"—Three joined in one.

RARITY! RARITY! RARITY!

To our knowledge, here is the first time this RARE United States coin has ever been offered in like condition, at a fixed price.

WE HAVE FOR SALE the very rare 1876 CC TWENTY CENT PIECE. It is listed on page 99 of the 13th edition of the "Guide Book." There are 14 known, and this piece is unpriced. (We have seen another source that estimates 10 known.)

IT IS AVAILABLE to the first foresighted Numismatist at a price of $6,500. Condition is extremely fine. We do not believe that in this generation will such a great rarity be again available. Fortunate indeed will be the individual who will be able to boast of this Museum piece.

CHOICE SET OF CARSON CITY DOUBLE EAGLES

In 1893, the romantic and historical old United States Mint in Nevada closed forever. Collectors well know that most of the coins issued in any given year were in small quantities, especially the GOLD. Just how many thousands of these were remelted, or how many were "turned in" in 1933, is not known. One good guess, however, is that the number of sets available can be counted on two hands.

We offer this beautiful set, mounted in black plastic, with heading and dates stamped in gold, mostly uncirculated, from an estate. It dates from the last year, 1893, backwards to 1871, eighteen choice pieces. It catalogs over $2,800 in uncirculated condition. Some dates are worth over catalog. In our opinion, a set of 18 different dates is worth a premium. Nevertheless, in keeping with our policy of turnover, some fortunate collector will be made happy with this bargain priced at $2,400. If interested, do not hesitate. It may be years before such a set may be offered, and probably at a much, much higher price.

RARE RUSSIA PLATINUM SET

This beautiful gem PROOF set of three pieces is one of the finest known. It is said to have been owned by Tolstoi. It consists of the 13, 6, and 3 Ruble. Comparable to our 20, 10, 5, only these are pure platinum. In fine condition, a set is known to have brought $1,250. THIS SET IS IN GEM PROOF CONDITION. It is mounted in black plastic. We believe our price of $1,650 is an outstanding bargain.

THE STORY OF CIVIL WAR MONEY

By Fred Reinfeld

The complete, exciting account of how the Civil War was financed practically without coins, but with paper money, notes, fractional currency (bills of 3¢ to 50¢), tokens (issued by merchants who needed to make change), and encased postage stamps (unique in history).

The author gives equal coverage in both pictures and text to Confederate issues and Union issues, describes how the whole money problem had its effect on the War, and how the tides of battle affected the values of money. Includes up-to-date catalog of all types of Confederate bills, U. S. notes of the period (including fractional) and tokens.

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

EASY TO USE AND ECONOMICAL! FAST ACTION — IT ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS!

Does not add shine, but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins in seconds.

This result of years of experiment can be safely used on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

SCARCE FOREIGN COINS —

There is relatively little demand for run-of-the-mill foreign coins. But for scarce foreign material there is a sustained and growing market. You'll find a wide range of desirable crowns and scarce minor coins in my bi-weekly lists. And if you have a collection of worth-while foreign coins to dispose of you'll find me an informed and appreciative buyer.

COOL EVENINGS ARE COMING!

If you have been enjoying "summer sunshine," October is the time to dust off your collection, and to see what you have missed during the summer months.

If you collect MODERN FOREIGN COINS, what better way is there than to write for my new price list (issued monthly) and get caught up on the new issues? You might even fill in some gaps in your older collection. This price list is free for the asking.

Perhaps too you need the 3rd edition of Whitman's "Catalog of Modern World Coins" due for release on Oct. 1. If you collect foreign, even remotely, this book will be invaluable to you, 512 pages, profusely illustrated, cloth bound, postpaid $4.00. I'll be glad to have your order.
